PURPOSE AND OBJECTIVES
The retail industry is one of the industries which affect most people’s lives. As a development organization our focus is to help our customers and their end consumers with our products in order for them to have the best experience running their retail processes, knowing that most of our applications have a direct or indirect impact on the end consumer.
In our team (Omnichannel Article Availability), every team member participates in customer meetings or has customer interaction to better understand their requirements as part of our agile development working model. Omnichannel Article Availability provides retail-specific product availability and sourcing information to our customers. This information is identical and consumable across all sales and communication channels (points of sale, online, mobile, call centers) and provides a consistent customer experience.

EXPECTATIONS AND TASKS
• Contribute to design and development of our application. (functional and non-functional: security, performance)
• Interact with customers and get their feedback as early as needed. (from requirements to code with customer focus)
• Work in an agile development environment
• Continue to learn and bring innovation into our products
